

KEEPING THEM SAFE

Creating A Humane Wyoming

We envision a future where inhumane wildlife practices are unimaginable.
WyomingUntrapped.org

WYOMING BOBCAT PHOTO BY THOMAS D. MANGELSEN

"BEST NONPROFIT"

—BEST OF JACKSON HOLE

FOX PHOTO BY ASHLEIGH SCULLY

Wyoming Untrapped's mission is to promote trapping reform through education and advocacy for Wyoming's people, pets and wildlife.

Our key goals are:

- Education and Advocacy: Sharing science-based information with the public and encouraging collaboration among individuals, organizations, communities, and government agencies.
- Compassionate Coexistence: Leading efforts to ensure the well-being of wildlife while ensuring the safety of pets and people.
- Legal Reform: Advocating for changes in legislation to reduce animal suffering, such as mandating 24-hour trap checks and creating trap-free zones to minimize pet losses.

To become involved or learn more, please visit our website: WyomingUntrapped.org

BEWARE: Trapping is permitted on most public land in Wyoming and your dog could be caught in a trap or snare!

- Wherever you see wildlife, there could be traps.
- Traps can be legally placed directly on public trails, including popular trails, without limits or setbacks.
- Trappers aren't responsible for injuries to your pet.

Hike with caution and visit our website for instructional videos and a downloadable brochure with best practices for releasing your pet from a trap or snare.